If there were but one store in Honolulu it would secure all the trade in the city—but, as a matter of fact, every line of trade is carried by a large number of stores—hence business must be sought, coaxed and won.

BULLETIN ADS. are trade winners because they are read in the homes of the people who buy the goods.

Actor Plans Hawaiian Grass-House Village at Los Angeles

Sam Egton of the National Stock Company, the talent now playing to packed houses at the Orpheum theater, has in mind a scheme which, if carried out, would undoubtedly prove a most profitable investment for him and an advertisement for the Hawaiian Islands. It is Egton's idea to form a company of native Hawaiians in this city and take them to a popular resort in the neighborhood of Los Angeles, California, there to open a Hawaiian village for the entertainment and education of the thousands upon thousands of tourists who seek and find pleasure in that beautiful section of the Pacific Coast State.

Mr. Egton, who was here several years ago and who appreciates the exhibition possibilities of things Hawaiian, has consulted with Mr. R. A. Kearns, the expert shorthand writer, whom he met here on his last visit, as to the prospects of obtaining several native Hawaiian families willing to go to California for an indefinite period, to establish an old-fashioned Hawaiian village. Messrs. Egton and Kearns will probably go to Honolulu tomorrow to look around and advise their needs. If the desired people cannot be found on this island, the other islands will be visited. Egton believes that the reproduction of an ancient grass house Hawaiian village near Los Angeles, where Hawaiian hats, mats, leis, tapas, shell ornaments and the like could be obtained and where Hawaiian music and dancing could be enjoyed, would prove a great and profitable attraction, and his local friends heartily agree with him. Mr. Egton's plans are not yet definite. He is prospecting.

Viggo Jacobsen will engrave the Hawaiian resolutions in plain old English text.

COULDN'T GET CLEMENT'S LETTER

Coroner's Jury Finally Renders Verdict of Suicide

TRIED HARD TO GET LETTER TO DR. BOOTE

LAST WORDS WERE EVIDENTLY AN UNPLEASANT REFERENCE TO SOM. ONE WITH WHOM HE HAD DEALINGS.

(Special to The Bulletin)
Walluku, Maui, Nov. 8.—The coroner's jury that has been investigating the death of the late C. L. Clement consist of the following: Coroner W. E. Saffery and Messrs. W. T. Robinson, G. C. Stratemyer, Geo. Weight, W. E. Bal, C. A. Callow, and J. V. Kerr. The jury first met last Wednesday, Nov. 1st, and they met again Friday evening. Much evidence was obtained by the jury.

The note which the deceased left to Dr. Boote has not been delivered to the jury although its members demand it. Dr. Boote passed over the note to J. L. Coke, his attorney, and Mr. Boote has flatly refused to give the letter to the jury, as there was something in the note which is very injurious to somebody, and Dr. Boote does not care that any such scurrilous remarks, although written by the deceased, should be aired for the public criticism, as he believes that it is no one's business to know what actuated Clement to take his life. It is enough to know that Clement took his own life with the pistol and if the jury are satisfied of the fact, it seemed to Dr. Boote their duties and powers cease there.

The members of the jury hold a different view from Dr. Boote, but they do not know how to get at the much coveted note. The jury will meet again this evening and whether they will put some one in jail until the note is given up, remains to be seen, for the members of the jury are conferring with legal lights in order to know what course to take in the matter. The jury is bound to get the letter, no matter if the jury lasts six months.

On the other hand, Dr. Boote defies the authority of the jury to demand such a letter, which he considers of so privileged a character that not even King Edward VII will be permitted to take a peep at it. There are various surmises as to the contents of the letter. Some seem to think that the deceased reviled a certain party in town, while some seem to think that Clement in his despair let loose his wrath on those of his friends who were directly instrumental in leading him astray from the paths of virtue and sobriety, those who encouraged him to enjoy life without work, in fact those with whom he spent many laborious afternoons in saloons over schooners of beer.

Walluku, Nov. 10.—The coroner's jury in re case of C. L. Clement met again Thursday morning in the office of Coroner W. E. Saffery. Walluku, Dr. Boote still persisting in his refusal to give up the note which the deceased addressed to him, the jury came to the conclusion that it was no use trying.

Planters Favor New Steamship

At a recent meeting of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association the matter of the proposed independent Hawaiian owned steamship to operate between San Francisco and Honolulu was informally discussed and an encouraging number of representative sugar men present took occasion to express themselves as most cordially favoring the scheme and willing to do all they could to further the plans, providing certain business requirements could be satisfied and that certain obstacles could be removed.

J. A. McCandless' trip to the mainland was referred to and the hope expressed that he would obtain all desired information in regard to the cost of building and operating a new boat of large dimensions.

Numerous sugar men have declared that they stand ready to back the new steamship service.

SILVA CASE LOOMED BEFORE ROBINSON AS GHOST

M. G. Silva, the owner of the Kamehameha Saloon, appeared before Judge Robinson this morning to show cause why he should not pay his former wife alimony. He appeared for a similar reason a month ago. He then showed that he could not pay, because he had no coin, and the order was continued until today.

Silva produced the books of his saloon. He said that he has spent only $12.50 on himself during the past month. The books showed a balance of $10.10 cash on hand. E. A. Douthitt, who represented the ex-wife, immediately scented the ready money and made a motion that Silva be ordered to give the woman half of the $10.

Silva made a noise like thirty cents. He said that he owed $50 to the brewery and other creditors. He needed the money to buy beer for his saloon. Douthitt then moved for an order that Silva must pay $5 a month to support his wife and two children, but the court could not see it.

"This case has been pursuing me ever since I first came on the bench," said Judge Robinson. "It has loomed up before me like Banquo's ghost. This man has not enough money to meet his debts. You can't squeeze blood out of a turnip."

Douthitt held that the claim of the children came before that of the creditors, but the court held that upon the showing Silva had made, no order could be made to make him pay even five cents, and he was discharged.

Deputy High Sheriff Geo. Sea returned from Maui today with a Chinese prisoner, named Ko Yee, sentenced to five years' imprisonment on a charge of manslaughter. He is brought here because Walluku jail is in such bad condition that it is not thought safe to hold long term prisoners in it.

Prince and Princess Kawananakoa, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Burke McClanahan, Richard Lane, Senator John Carey Lane and "Prince Bert" Peterson were among those who occupied boxes at the initial performance of the National Stock Company at the Orpheum last evening.
